Board Lets Bid On New Facility

Canyon trustees let a bid of $470,024 for a new vocational building, discussed a possible five-cent jump in the tax rate and reviewed bulging enrollment figures Monday night.

Among nine bidders, Wiley Hicks, Jr., submitted the low bid. Next low bid was by Tom Badrow who submitted a bid of $483,878 on the project.

The new facility is to be completed by Aug. 1, 1974 and will house vocational agriculture, auto mechanics, office education, building trades, homemaking and distributive education, a new program at Canyon High School. The building also will contain some administrative offices.

Texas Education Agency is putting up the money for 53 percent of construction cost. School Supt. Jerry Jacobs said tentative plans call for the remainder to be financed out of surplus funds and $60,000 in five-year time warrants.

He said local cost of the new plant will be about $236,000. Asked the direct question by Board President Tom Keeling, Superintendent Jacobs said inflation has eaten up the 5 cent hike in the tax rate from $1.65 to $1.70 of last year.

Dr. Dudley Moore pointed out that there is a continuing increase in the tax base in the district.

"We need that just to keep up with what we have," Keeling asserted.

Ed Wieck said that if it is possible to finance the new building with a 5 cent tax rate increase he thinks it would be the sensible method.

"I know we are going to have to have a raise to run the schools," commented Walter Graham. "It's just a matter of how much."

Board members were in agreement to make a decision on the tax rate at a meeting Sept. 4. Jacobs presented an estimated budget of $3,004,465 for the 1973-74 school year. Projected local income was based on both $1.70 current tax rate and $1.75. A 5 cent increase would produce a local income of $939,686 which would be something near $32,000 more than that generated under the $1.70 rate.

The new estimated budget shows an increase in cost of instruction of about $100,000. The proposed budget is an increase of about $400,000 over the current budget but this includes $236,000 local cost on the new vocational education building.

Jacobs told the board that he expects enrollment to hit 3,100 by the first of the year. As of Tuesday total enrollment was 3,021 with 965 in Rex Reeves Elementary, 490 at Gene Howe, 851 in junior high school and 715 in high school.

Jacobs said the two critical points are the fifth and sixth grades at Gene Howe where the fifth grade averages 31 students per class room and the sixth grade 30.

Business Manager Ronnie Wood told the board he is moving toward a more detailed accounting system where expenditures can be pinpointed.

Comm. Eyes Road Care

County Commissioner Paul Lindsey Monday told developers the county looks with a jaundiced eye on undertaking road maintenance in subdivisions except under specified conditions.

Lindsey said the county should accept maintenance, only when use of such roads reaches a reasonable level and are open to the general public.

Directing his remarks to Matt McAfee who was presenting a plat for Timbercreek Canyon, Unit 2, Lindsey said the county should not accept maintenance of streets in subdivisions fenced and gated.

"If it has a gate, the county has no obligation to maintain the streets since it is not open to the public," Lindsey declared.

Tanglewood Village has a gate and its streets are maintained by the developer rather than the county.

McAfee said the gate would be locked at Timbercreek Canyon but there would be a gate man on hand at all times to permit entry by people needing to enter.

Commissioner Bill Butler said he thinks the county may be in error in pursuing this policy since residents of these subdivisions pay county taxes.

Lindsey noted that farmers must build and maintain roads from general thoroughfares to their houses in the country.

Horace Dwight who discussed McCormick Estates with the court received a similar answer. Dwight was told the county is in the process of formulating a new policy on accepting roads for county maintenance but may not complete it in time for him to pave projected roads this fall.

County Clerk LeRoy Hutton told the court it may be necessary for the county to revamp three voting precincts in order to meet requirements of a new state law. He noted that the new law re-

First Case Under Law

Randall County's first pot case under a new law making possession of small amounts of marijuana a misdemeanor was tried in county court Tuesday.

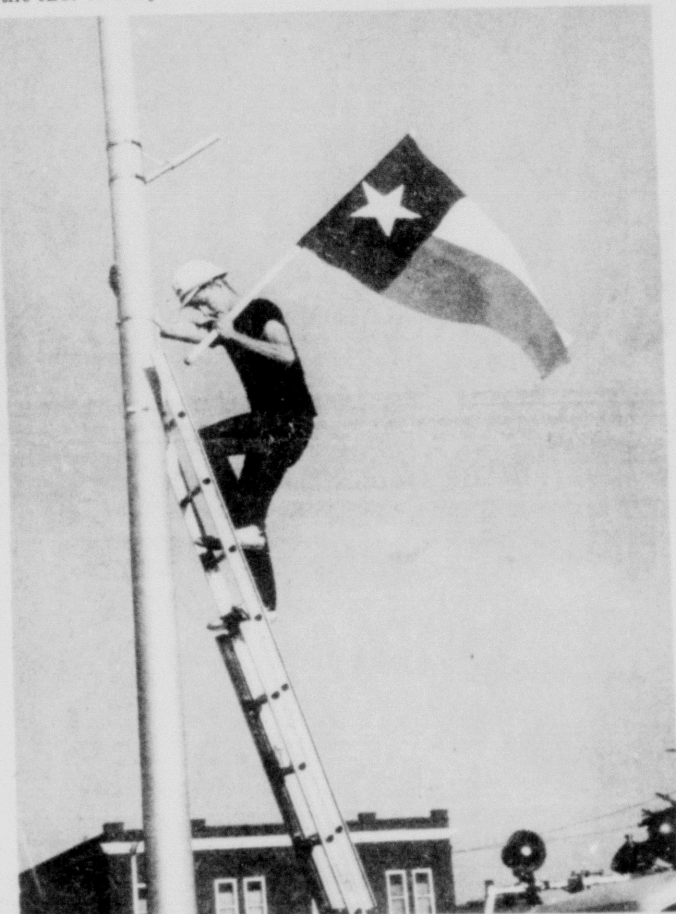

Michael Charles Cooper, 17 years old, Amarillo, entered a plea of guilty in county court and was fined $250, plus $47 court costs.

He was placed on 6 months probation after being given a 60-day jail sentence suspended during good behavior.

District Attorney George Dowlen handled the case personally. He said Cooper was arrested Monday by an Amarillo city officer.

Dowlen said the officer approached Cooper and smelled what he believed to be marijuana. Search of the car produced 10 roaches or marijuana cigarette butts which Cooper reportedly told officers he had gathered at the scene of a party.

Dowlen said marijuana content came to less than an ounce.

Lone Star flags came down all over town Tuesday afternoon after waving all summer in honor of the Panhandle's most successful outdoor theatre production, "TEXAS." The show closed its eighth season after the performance on Saturday.

Watkins Speaks Tells It Straight

Speaking Tuesday to faculty members assembled for the first time this year, West Texas State University's new president minced few words in outlining his strategy for reversing the school's "gloomy enrollment trend."

In a shorter-than-usual faculty meeting that one professor described as "one of the most lucid I've ever attended," President Lloyd I. Watkins presented his first "State of the University" speech.

His address was preceded by a traditional "passing of the ring" ceremony between outgoing and incoming presidential heads.

Dr. Watkins told the audience of 400 faculty and staff members that since assuming duties at WTSU on Aug. 1, nothing has altered his view that the enrollment decline is the school's most pressing problem.

The new president realistically laid the enrollment problem out in facts and figures supplied by Dr. Donald Cates, WTSU dean of admissions and registrar, and Dr. Ronald Huffstutler, professor of mathematics.

He learned early not to be surprised at finding one of my "bad" boys of yesteryear serving as a dependable and valuable member of his church board. (I am thankful that I knew that they were not bad).

Watkins acknowledged Dr. Jack Bullock, professor of mathematics and Faculty Council Chairman for a suggestion to pre-register freshmen students in the spring for courses they would be taking the following fall. This step, Watkins said, "will provide a link which can fight attrition."

Watkins then launched into an interrogative inventory of steps needed to "provide students with sufficient encouragement" to remain at WTSU. Among questions put to assembled faculty members were:

— "Are we identifying students with financial problems which might be alleviated if spotted in time?"

— "Are all of us making an effort to be friendly and helpful to those who come to us for an education? Are those who work in areas of high visibility — receptionists and secretaries —

Student Registration Starts Friday At W.T.

West Texas State University officials are anticipating greater efficiency of student enrollment in condensed registration sessions beginning Friday morning in the Activities Center.

By lopping off 10 minutes from the 30 minutes allotted in the past to each alphabetical grouping of students, the new 20-minute scheduling concentrates registration into one and a half days. In the past, registration was conducted in a two and one-half day period.

After last fall's registration, officials concluded that students were finishing enrollment procedures well before the allotted time granted to each, according to Dr. Donald Cates, WTSU Registrar.

The two days of registration begin Friday with freshmen and seniors scheduled to sign up from 8 a.m. to 1:20 p.m. Sophomores, juniors and graduate students will register from 1:20 p.m. to 4:20 p.m. Friday and from 8:20 to 10:40 a.m. Saturday. Evening only students and late arrivals will register until 1:20 p.m. Saturday.

Registration procedures are expected to be further streamlined as a result of the summer freshman orientation program introduced at the university this year.

During the three orientation sessions held, about 500 freshmen pre-registered for the fall term at WTSU. Of that number, only 12 have since indicated they will not be attending the school, according to Dr. Ray Malzahn, WTSU academic vice-president.

Dr. Cates, said that the number of freshmen anticipated this year is equal to the number who enrolled last fall.

He said that since enrollment at the university reached a peak of nearly 8,000 in 1969, beginning freshman enrollment has continued to decline.

But he added that results of the summer pre-registration program seem to indicate that the distressing trend will be reversed this year, and at least continue at a level consistent with last fall.

Orientation for freshmen who did not attend any of the summer sessions began Wednesday and will continue at 10 a.m. today in the AC. University officials will meet with these students and introduce them to campus life and regulations.

Freshman students will be meeting with faculty advisors for counseling beginning at 1 p.m. today.

Classes begin Monday and continue through Dec. 20, when the fall term ends. School will be out for Thanksgiving recess, Nov. 21-24.

Because of unusually severe weather last winter which slowed construction, the new science building and the James P. and Mary Elizabeth Cornette Library will not be ready for occupancy until the start of the spring semester in January, according to Virgil Henson, financial vice-president.

For the entertainment of enrolling students, the Student Activities Council has scheduled two open-air concerts Friday and Saturday featuring vocalist Mike Williams and The Trend, a seven-man, one-girl concert rock group. The following alphabetical list (See REGISTRATION, Page 2)

Canyon May Offer AISD Land Swap

Committees from Amarillo and Canyon school boards will discuss possibility of a land swap or monetary compensation for 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 sections Amarillo wants to pare out of Canyon School District.

The two board committees at a meeting here Wednesday decided to get together again in late September.

Amarillo has been asking for 11 sections contending that taking in this territory would speed up development of South Amarillo.

W.W. Carter told Canyon representatives that developers are shying away from the land along the northern edge of the Canyon district because it is so far removed from schools. Acting as spokesman for his committee, Carter said Amarillo already has school facilities nearby to serve the area.

Accompanying Carter to Canyon were Pete Dallas and Amarillo Superintendent Bob Ashworth.

Ed Wieck, Tom Keeling, Richard Pruitt and Supt. Jerry Jacobs represented Canyon School District interests.

Jacobs suggested a swap either for land adjacent to Tradewind Airport or along the Santa Fe Railway right of way. Both sites have industrial development potential.

The suggestion will be studied by the Canyon board at a future meeting.

Another alternative suggested by Canyon representatives was monetary payment for loss of tax revenue from the real estate in question.

"I think our people would be better satisfied if the district made a profit," declared Board President Keeling.

Carter said he thinks it is important that the growth of Amarillo not be artificially impeded. He said that if Canyon would give up the entire 11 sections it

Some Work Labor Day

When West Texas State University opens its doors for classes Monday, almost all other city concerns will have closed theirs for the Labor Day holiday.

City and county offices will be closed on Monday, and no classes will be scheduled in the Canyon public schools.

Almost all city merchants will be hanging out their closed signs, and the banks and Post Office will also be closed for business.

The only personnel who will be taking off for the Labor Day holiday at WTSU will be employees in the university maintenance department. All other school offices will be open and the first day of classes will begin at 8 a.m.

No slight on labor is intended by WTSU's decision to work on Labor Day, according to Dr. Ray Malzahn, academic vice-president at the University.

"There is a strong desire on the part of the institution to maximize the days of instruction and to minimize the delay between registration and the beginning of classes," he said, adding that this policy gives the part-time student in particular an assist and "gives better service to all students as a whole."

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Local school boards may soon be reduced to figurehead status with all important decisions coming from state and national levels.

We have a good example in the planning for Canyon School District's new vocational building. CISD is putting up $236,000 to build the new building which will cost about $470,000 and the state is kicking in the rest.

Texas Education Agency has the final word on design and content of the new building. TEA has arbitrarily vetoed a mechanic's pit for the mechanics classes and a finishing room for the building trades classes.

If the local district will not comply it will get no financial help from TEA. I understand that one man with TEA is responsible for the veto.

Where is local control of schools when a czar in Austin can dictate how we build our class rooms? You may say state money is involved but again we ask: Where does state money come from if not from the local taxpayers across the state?

Canyon schools are bursting at the seams. People moving into the Amarillo area are making a point to settle in the Canyon School District because of the reputation of Canyon for good schools.

Although it is the best kept secret of the decade, (tighter held than President Nixon's tapes) stories of campus violence keep filtering in from the Amarillo school system.

In view of the efforts of Amarillo School District to grab off some of our territory, I think Amarillo Superintendent Bob Ashworth should tell us if there really is serious trouble in the Amarillo system.

The future is unlimited for young people willing to accept responsibility. The modern cop out is refusal to take responsibility.

What this country needs most is a few take charge people.

Audrey Bruse, the tax assessor collector, asked for an executive session before commissioners court to discuss personnel problems Monday.

It evolved that Mrs. Bruse wanted to discuss salaries which are usually set by the court early in the year. Salary discussion must be open to the public under Texas law and when informed of this Mrs. Bruse dropped the whole matter.

The United States is making less headway on drug abuse problems than any other country on earth.

At last the Orient is moving to solve its problem while we seem to be regressing. The public has about bought the myth that marijuana is really a harmless drug that young people can take for kicks without harmful after effects.

Dr. Roy Hart, one of the country's foremost experts on the drug cannabis found in marijuana, says this is an out and out lie. He says the drug settles in fatty tissues especially in the brain and can do permanent damage.

Residual damage to marijuana smokers is very serious. Dr. Hart also noted that many Jane users seldom stop there but usually go on to stouter stuff. He is backed up in his assertions by Dr. Mitch Rosenthal who works at Phoenix House, a drug treatment center, in New York City.

Dr. Rosenthal says we now have what is called by users the garbage head who is not partial to any kind of drug but takes about anything he can get. This often proves fatal as mixed drugs react with each other.

Dr. Hart says alcoholism is still America's greatest drug problem with 9 million alcoholics in the US today. He said the problem with youth is intensified because of permissiveness on the part of heavy drinking parents.

Legislators are not helping things any. Legal drinking age has been lowered from 21 to 18 and marijuana in small quantities is just short of being legal in Texas.

It's now a misdemeanor only for being caught with just enough marijuana for your own use.

I don't pretend to know the answers. I've merely stated the problems.

Residents Brother Passes Away In NM

D.G. (Don) McAtee, former resident and the brother of three Canyon residents, passed away from a heart attack last Thursday evening in Farmington, N.M.

Services were held this past Monday and burial was in Farmington.

Mr. McAtee was the brother of Lloyd (Happy) McAtee, Mrs. C.N. Tipperly, and Mrs. Ruth Chandler, of Canyon, and Earl McAtee of Carter, Okla.

Sunderman Returns From Tour

Kyle Sunderman, recently returned from an Asian tour with the Venture for Victory basketball team that left June 15 and returned Aug. 15. He is a former Fighting Heart Award Winner and a member of the West Texas State basketball team.

Sunderman was a starter on last year's Buff cager team, but was benched due to an ankle injury.

According to Sunderman, the purpose of the tour wasn't just victory, but the sharing of victory with teammates through their personal knowledge of Jesus Christ.

The team members had to raise their own support money for the tour. Sunderman expressed his thanks to everyone who made it possible for his going.

The team's record for the tour was 56-4 with defeats going to Indonesia National, South Korean National teams and two different teams from Manila in the Philippines. The team defeated two other National teams that included several Olympic players and the best of their country's basketball players from Hong Kong and Singapore. The two losses to the Manilla teams were the first two games the team played together.

In play against the other National teams the Venture for Victory team turned up a 40-4 record.

There were many unscheduled games played with high school teams that wanted a game with the Venture for Victory team after hearing their presentation clinics and programs about Christ.

The Venture for Victory team also provided half-time entertainment for the fans with singing, skits and testimonies. Some of these performances were broadcast along with the game on national television.

To Sunderman the best part of the whole trip was the closeness of the team members and their commitment to Christ.

Services Slated For Mrs. Brown

Funeral services for Mrs. Ray D. Brown of 2512 13th Ave. are slated at 2 p.m. Friday at the First United Methodist Church. Mrs. Brown died at 7:15 a.m. Wednesday at Neblett Clinic.

Rev. J. Frank Peery and Dr. Herbert Thompson will officiate at the services.

Born April 20, 1905 in Dardanelle, Ark., Mrs. Brown attended school in Dardanelle County and Arkansas Technological University.

After teaching school for several years, she married Ray D. Brown on May 9, 1932. The couple moved to Allison, where Brown was postmaster until his retirement in 1966.

Mrs. Brown taught in the Allison schools and was assistant postmaster for many years. She occupied the postmaster post for two years. The Browns moved to Canyon in 1968.

A member of the United Methodist Church, Mrs. Brown was also active in the Women's Society of Christian Service, Canyon Garden Club, the S.P.R.Y. Club, and the Condon Sunday School.

Survivors include her husband Ray, of the home, and three daughters, Mrs. Willis Harrison of 1209 Brookhaven; Mrs. Donna Helms of Oklahoma City, and Mrs. Jim Greenwood of St. Paul, Minn. Also, one sister, Mrs. Cora Dunn of Little Rock, Ark.; three brothers, R.E. Baker of Bentonville, Ark.; L.O. Baker of Heber Springs, Ark.; and T.L. Baker of Fort Worth, and ten grandchildren.

nearly two weeks of the twice daily football practices.

The Buffaloes of coach Gene Mayfield will scrimmage at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium and that will be the final such session prior to the Saturday, Sept. 8, season opener against Drake.

Coach Mayfield and his staff have been extremely pleased with the way the players have worked during the two-week period.

"Heat and the time period involved in two-day practices have slowed several of the workouts, but generally we are pleased with the progress," said Mayfield.

The season opener in Kimbrough Stadium is of prime importance as the Buffaloes tied last fall with Drake and Louisville for the Missouri Valley Conference championship. The Buffaloes are looking forward to an opportunity to face Drake as the Des Moines, Iowa, team spoiled last year's season opener.

Drake took advantage of eight West Texas State turnovers (six fumbles and two interceptions) to record a 40-12 victory in the contest played at Des Moines.

Meet Scheduled For Sept. 6

A brain-picking meeting to turn up ideas that could spell the fate of Buffalo Lake is scheduled Sept. 6 in Canyon for interested local and area residents.

Acting upon a recent Federal Department of Interior decision to place the initiative for action on the lake in the hands of locals, a group of residents including Jack Brandt, president of the Umberger Community Association, and County Judge Woody Pond, have set up the meeting.

Envisioned as a kind of town-hall meeting for the exchange of ideas and formulation of plans for the future, the meeting will take up several pivotal questions that must be answered before Congressman Bob Price can proceed to try to keep the lake open.

making students feel welcome?" — "Is our literature attractive and inviting or is it fraught with proscriptions and negative thinking?"

"Are our general requirements the reasoned result of long-forgotten inter-departmental or inter-college power struggles wherein areas with determined leadership insured their perpetual prosperity and strength by getting their courses approved as somehow a necessary element in the 'well-rounded' education of a WTSU graduate?"

"Are we providing our students with attractive options, such as international programs, which are offered by nearly all institutions similar to ours?"

In addition to the problem of attrition, Dr. Watkins also attributed the enrollment slump to "the diminishing population of the traditional college age group, often defined as those between the ages of 18 and 22."

Watkins called for a widened concept of a university student — a concept that would embrace "anyone who can profit from what we have to offer."

"There is a vast potential student group within those married women whose children are in school or away from home," he said.

Another potential student group, he said, was the elderly. "We now know they make excellent students and that they bring an enriching dimension to our student bodies," he said.

Identifying another potential student group, Watkins asked "what have we done to raise the levels of aspiration for those who — for whatever reason — age, sex, ethnic origin — mistakenly do not conceive of themselves as 'college material'?"

Enhancing opportunities in vocational and technical programs have also lured away many potential academic students, he said.

"... nationally, we have done such a miserable job in justifying the existence and in explaining the values of our academic programs. We appear to have accepted the premise that the vocational goal is the only valid goal for education. It is one goal, and a quite important one, too."

"More important in my view, is the goal of helping people learn to learn and love to learn."

Watkins announced at the meeting the appointment of Keith L. Winter as WT director of development. He also told faculty members that he would be seeking their aid in crucial deliberations concerning reviews of tenure and promotion policy and other general requirements.

Watkins said he would be "seeking and encouraging" increased student assistance in many areas. Dr. James P. Cornette, university chancellor, presided over the first part of the meeting, and then gave his successor the floor following the brief "passing of the ring" ceremony.

The tradition, occurring only twice before in the university's 64-year history, was started in 1918 when R. B. Cousins, first president at the university, bought a gold ring and placed it on the finger of his successor, Dr. Joseph A. Hill, according to Dr. Cornette. In a ceremony July 7, 1948, Dr. Hill, president for 30 years, in turn placed it on the finger of Dr. Cornette.

Commentary on the new President's first faculty meeting address seemed to be highly favorable. As one professor phrased it, "it was good to be able to come out of one of these meetings with our heads up instead of down."

Hutton was instructed to ask the secretary of state for special permission to maintain status quo of the precincts since changing the voting places would work a hardship on the voters there.

Road Supt. Joe West reported continuing trouble with trash dumping on county roads. He said trash dumping seems to be worst on 34th and 45th in South Amarillo and on the dump ground road and Hunsley road in the vicinity of Canyon.

West said he and his crews keep their eyes peeled "12 to 15 hours a day" but have had little luck in curbing the dumping although a $10 to $200 penalty is provided by law.

"It is a problem that isn't going to go away," declared Butler.

Because Commissioner John Fulgenzi was absent Monday, discussion of revenue sharing and the county budget for 1974 was delayed until 10 o'clock Thursday when they will be discussed in a special session.

In other business Engineer Bill McMorris submitted an offer to draw specifications for county roads, drainage and subdivision requirements for a fee of $1,040. Action on this offer also was delayed.

Rices Welcome New Baby Boy

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rice, 1309 3rd Ave., announce the birth of a son, David Clifton, born Aug. 27, at Neblett Memorial Hospital, weighing 8 lbs. 7 oz. and measuring 21 inches in length.

David has two brothers, Randy 7, and Dennis, 4.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Metcalf, Panhandle.
 Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamilton, Sand Springs, Okla.
 Mr. Rice is the Deputy Chief of the Canyon Fire Dept.

Two Art Exhibits At AC To Focus On Panhandle

Two art exhibits focusing on people and places of the Texas Panhandle go on display Sept. 3 at the West Texas State University Activities Center.

The show, under auspices of the Student Activities Council, are "Panhandle People" by sculptor John Queen, associate professor of art at Texas Tech University, and "The Panhandle Story," a collection of photography works by Bill Clough of Houston.

Formal Panhellenic Rush will officially begin Sept. 3 with a Greek Orientation in the Activities Center Ballroom at 6 p.m.

Attendance is required of all rushees participating in Formal Rush.

Mary Lou Farnum, Asst. Dean of Women, spoke avidly about the speakers for the convocation and the new additions to the program. She related that pre-registration of girls who are planning to participate in Formal Rush is the biggest ever with 84 pre-registered in comparison with 60 last year.

Between now and Sept. 3, Miss Farnum expects another 24 girls to register, making this the largest group to be rushed.

This year, the big addition to the Formal Rush program is the use of group leaders. These girls are members of one of the five sororities but will not be allowed to disclose which one, nor influence rushees in any matter. Their job is to counsel the rushees and help them in any way possible. This will give the rushees someone to come to for help if she can't get to a party, or for just about any small disaster.

Upon attending the convocation, each rushee will be given a Rushee Conduct Guide and a Schedule of Events. The Rushee Conduct Guide is not a long list of dos and don'ts, but a great deal of information that will answer many of the questions that may be running through the rushee's mind, but she may be hesitant to ask.

A schedule of major events that apply to the rushees are:

Sept. 3, 6 p.m. — Greek Orientation in the AC Ballroom.
 Sept. 4, 5 p.m. — Rushees pick up name tags and schedule for Round Robin parties.

Sept. 6, 11:30 a.m. — Rushees pick up invitations to Period I parties.

5:30 p.m. — Beginning of Period I parties.
 Sept. 7 — Rushees accept invitations to Period II parties.

4 p.m. — Period II parties begin.
 Sept. 8, 9 a.m. — Rushees pick up invitations to Period III parties.

11 a.m. — Period III parties begin.
 2:45 p.m. — Rushees sign preferential cards in the AC Ballroom.

6 p.m. — Rushees who attended Period III parties and signed preferential cards go to Student Life Conference Room to see if they have been extended a formal invitation to pledge. If they have, they are directed to that sorority.

In the past few years there have been rumblings that perhaps the Greek system is dead. Not so. Mary Lou Farnum has supplied some pertinent data disproving this on the WTSU campus.

Greeks are involved in student government with three-fourths of the posts that were held by women in the Student Senate were held by Greeks. Also, the Student Association Secretary last year was a Greek; this year is a Greek. The AWS presidential office was filled by a Greek when the elected president had to resign. And two of the three presidents in the upperclasswomen's dorms were Greek.

Greeks are more than ever involved in campus activities. Last year's Miss WTSU was a Greek and 15 out of 17 of the contestants were Greeks. All four of the women cheerleaders and all seven of the song-girls last year were members of a Greek organization. The Panhellenic Bridal Fair, conducted at the request of the Student Activities Council, drew a crowd of 350 girls, and Panhellenic raised over $200 in house-to-house campaigns for the Carol of Lights fund. Also, five of the Homecoming Carnival booths were sponsored by Greeks. Nine of the 17 nominees for AWS Woman of the Year were Greek with the winner and first runner-up being Greeks. Six of the 19 women named to Who's Who Among Students in Colleges and Universities were sorority girls.

Members of sororities are also active in the community. Sorority girls were asked to serve as official hostesses for the National Hot Rod Association Drag Races in Amarillo. Panhellenic participated in the Multiple Sclerosis bowling drive. IFC and Panhellenic together donated $300 for the erection of street signs on campus that were raised in honor of WT men killed in action in Vietnam.

"This should clear up some of the misconceptions that sorority girls are a bunch of snobs with nothing better to do than look pretty and party," Miss Farnum is adamant on the subject of the uselessness of sororities. "Being in a sorority does not mean being born with a silver spoon in your mouth, feeling you are above others, and having a large allowance. It does mean being willing to commit yourself to the ideals you believe in and taking responsibility for your life. It means learning to work with others in harmony and mostly learning how to depend on yourself."

The five sororities on the WT campus are Alpha Delta Pi, Chi Omega, Delta Zeta, Kappa Delta, and Zeta Tau Alpha.

Moms Not So Happy That School Started

By TROYCE MULHERIN
GREETINGS:
MERCY! ONCE HOPED for a forty-eight hour day — have found some. As the first-time mother of a bus student, have learned that there are (ugh) several hours that come before 8 a.m. in which to do things. First chore of the day is simply getting up. Secondly, cooking several breakfast (ugh) type meals. Thirdly, seeing one off, then another, and then another. Then? Am not telling. But, now know why so many mothers aren't happy that school has started!

LUCKILY, GENE HOWE students have Ricky Smith back again this year. This time, tho, Ricky is our Physical Education instructor and not assistant! After many many hours in night classes, etc., Ricky received his Bachelor of Science in Economics during the month of August. Congratulations, sir! End of one long road, and beginning of another, as he has already started work on his certificate in physical education now. (Not sure about that exact certification — but am sure that he is still going to school and working on something). Mr. Smith's wife, Sandee, is a fifth grade teacher at Rex Reeves, and they have one darling daughter, Dannielle, fifteen months aged, and resides with her mom and dad in Canyon. Glad to have you aboard for another year, Mr. Smith!

MR. AND MRS. R.J. Lee have contributed eight youngsters to the Canyon School District this year. The Lees moved into their home at Lake Tanglewood the first of April, and Mrs. Lee spent her days driving the youngsters to their various Amarillo schools in order for the young ones to finish where they started.

THIS SCHOOL TERM finds four of the youngsters attending Gene Howe. Willie is 5 and a kindergarten student. Ann is 8 and a 3rd grade student. Richard is a 5th grade student and is 9 years old. Douglas is an 11 year old 6th grade student. Canyon Junior High got Becky, a 7th grade student, and Danny, an 8th grade student. Robert (Bobby) is a 10th grade student at Canyon High, and Diana is an 11th grade student at the high school.

ALL THE YOUNGSTERS are very sports minded, with hockey, volleyball, basketball, and water sports high on their list of fun things to do. The Lees are musically inclined and enjoy family sessions with their various instruments. Several of the youngsters are very good at art, as their art teacher will attest.

MRS. LEE, MARY Ann, quite often works with her husband at the Big Texan. She also teaches psychiatric nursing on a part-time basis at various nursing schools.

THE LEES RECENTLY held an all-day and most-of-the-night party at their home. One hundred thirty-five people, most of them being staff members from the Big Texan, were treated to an all-day barbecue eating spree. While one group of youngsters was playing games, another was playing pool, another ping pong, and yet another basketball, etc. The Lees also furnished two boats for water skiing fiends. Lots of energetic fun. When the sun set, the Lees and their guests took themselves to the Big Texan for an evening of listening-to-the-band entertainment.

WE WELCOME THE LEES to the Canyon district, and Amarillo's loss is Lake Tanglewood's gain.

THE LUTHER LAWLESS family has been busy, busy these past few weeks. What with getting things squared away at Gene Howe in time for school, the Lawlesses have also welcomed several groups of houseguests. Brenda's mother, Mrs. J.E. Coburn; her brother, John; his wife, Julia; and their son, John Mark, came from Mt. Pleasant (that's in Texas) to spend several days. They also brought Brenda's son, Ricky, home in time to start school in Canyon. Ricky has been spending his summer days working in his grandparent's store there in Mt. Pleasant.

AFTER THE MT. Pleasant people left, the DeBerry (that's in Texas, too) people came to pay their respects. Luther's mother, Mrs. B.E. Lawless, and his sisters, Mrs. Jack Dittmore and Mrs. Ewing Kelley came. Mrs. Linda Creel and daughter, Shannon, visited from Midland. Mrs. Dittmore's great granddaughter, Laurie Dittmore, also visited from DeBerry.

THE LAWLESSES TREATED all their company to a tour of Palo Duro Canyon, an evening of "TEXAS," and a trip to Thompson Park. At various times, of course. Managed to get in some good eating and lots of conversation, too.

THE LAWLESSES HAVE

C. Crains Host Family Reunion

Mrs. Nannie Crain, Mrs. Bill Mitchell and Miss Tricia Franz, Long Beach, Calif., have been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Crain who live three miles from Canyon. As a climax to their visit, the Crains had a covered dish reunion supper at their new country home for about 40 kintfolks.

Mr. James W. Morris and wife, one time residents of Canyon, now of Bridgeton, N.J. attended the reunion. Mr. Morris is the son of the late Sylvia Morris Moore.

Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Crain, Lubbock, Dr. and Mrs. Solon Crain, Midland, Mrs. K. B. Turner, Willis Point, Mr. Stilton Crain, Childress, Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Crain, Childress, Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Crain, Mr. and Mrs. Bill H. Crain and son Kevin, Cee Vu.

From Claude, Mr. and Mrs. Merl Doss, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Benham and Bryon, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lane and granddaughters Tonya and Rhonda Lane, all of Amarillo.

Canyon residents enjoying the fellowship were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry E. Crain, Mr. and Mrs. "Spick" Benham and Lisa, Mrs. Bobby J. Doss, and Kim and Joe Doss and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huff.

also welcomed a new (to us, only, new, that is) family member! Luther's son, Craig, has come from Lubbock, and is a 10th grade student at Canyon High. Glad to have you in our land, Craig.

THE BILL HARP family recently enjoyed a family reunion at the Harp home. (Betcha that word got out about Bill and Ernestine's fantastic garden, resulting in the need for a reunion). Bill's brothers, Jess and David, came from Pueblo, Colo. Raymond and Ernie, also brothers, also came. As did some sister-types, including Mrs. Vera Mohny. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Mohny and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Graham joined the others for a garden supper and lots of friendly visiting. Gwen and Janis Harp were there, too.

THE NORTHWEST TEXAS Hospital Auxiliary recently held its August board meeting with our lovely Raydell Palmer serving as presiding officer. Amongst other business, the Auxiliary voted to purchase a portable type machine which measures brain waves, and also voted to purchase a bronchial fibroscope. These two projects will provide much-needed services to the community.

ANNOUNCEMENT WAS ALSO made of a very special Awards Day coming up on Sept. 5. You Auxiliary types get this date on your schedules and plan to attend en masse and in uniform. Gene Howe representatives to the board meeting included Darlene Campbell, Dee Delaney and yours truly.

SPEAKING OF DARLENE Campbell — she had a birthday — a lovely one — on Aug. 10. A crowd of friends, including Mr. and Mrs. Don Palmer, surprised Darlene with roses, gifts, cake, and a scrumptious dinner "out." All adding up to a very happy evening for a lovely lady.

THE DON PALMERS have recently returned from a sight-seeing trip to New Orleans. The Palmers took a paddleboat ride up the Mississippi on the Mark Twain. This adventure was greatly enjoyed by Shonda and Shane. The Palmers toured Louisiana, and we almost lost Raydell to plantation life.

BILL AND WILMA Hall and youngsters have returned from a four-day visit with her parents in El Paso. For the first time in 10 years, Wilma's brother and family managed to meet with the Halls in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W.S. Turner. Ross Turner, his wife, Charlene, and children, Janann and William, contributed their fair share of reminiscing and photograph taking and displaying. Some of the menfolk were tagged with temporary nicknames — after all, four "Bills" under one roof can be rather confusing at times. The Ross Turners are from San Diego, and it was rather painful for Wilma to say goodbye to the little ones.

THE HALLS VISITED various relatives in New Mexico on their way home to Amarillo. The Ross Turners joined them in these visits before returning home to California, with an overseas trip in store for Ross.

GUESS WHAT, MOMS? We get to sleep late Monday, Sept. 3. Labor Day holiday you know.

HAPPY BELATED BIRTHDAY wishes to Bill Seth. His day was on Sept. 27.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO Nancy Norsworthy, who parties on the 31st.

SOMETHING WHICH WILL be lots of fun, as well as beneficial to one of our Gene Howe families, will be taking place on Sept. 16. Details on this later — but keep this date in mind.

IN HONOR OF my son, I borrow the following from Garnett Ann Schultz: "His Voice is Changing Now."

"It seems such a short time ago that he was just a boy, with nothing more to think about than some bright brand new toy.

A little boy with shining eyes and boyish childhood ways, short trousers that he proudly wore on barefoot summer days.

It didn't matter what he did, he didn't care somehow, but things are different since he found his voice is changing now.

How well my heart and mind recall the day he went to school, so very anxious just to learn about the Golden Rule.

I often hugged and kissed him then or held him on my knee, he didn't seem to mind at all that other boys might see.

But now he has a foolish thought he never must be seen, for mothers never kiss their sons when they are past thirteen.

Sometimes I feel an empty spot that lacks that special joy, when I begin to realize he's more than just a boy.

The years have gone so very fast I've hardly had the time, I want to feel that though he's big he always will be mine.

And yet I have to see his way and love him more somehow, because he's sure that he's a man — his voice is changing now."

Happy thirteenth birthday, Mart. Thank you for these past 13 years.

THANK YOU FOR the use of the hall.

CPS Exam Course Offered

Certified Professional Secretary is the hallmark of distinction in the secretarial profession.

Only 613 of the 2,830 candidates who took the rigid CPS examination nationally this year passed it to earn the coveted designation.

The National Secretaries Association (International) reports there are only 6,801 certified professional secretaries in the country.

California with 840 and Texas with 559 are the two leading states in numbers of secretaries with CPS designation. The Texas Panhandle has about 25.

To assist secretaries advance in their career, West Texas State University is offering this fall a three-hour credit course covering three parts of the CPS examination.

Dr. Roland Johnson, chairman of the Department of Business Education and Office Administration in the School of Business, said the course, BE 276-1, will be taught at 7 p.m. Tuesdays on the Canyon campus. Dr. John Rider, professor of business education, will conduct the class.

Johnson said the course will cover the last three parts of the six-part CPS examination. They are financial analysis and the mathematics of business, communications and decision making, and office procedures.

He said if sufficient interest is shown in the fall program, then the first three parts of the examination will be covered in a course during the spring semester next year.

Revised university registration procedures make it easier for prospective students to register for the course, Johnson said. Registration is Aug. 31 - Sept. 1.

The purpose of the CPS program is to promote professional identity and educational standards in the profession and to assist management in selecting qualified secretaries, Johnson said.

Umbarger News

Move To New House Was Easy With Help

By REBA RAEF

WELL, WE ARE now living in our new house. We've been busy painting, papering, etc., a house that we moved into town. All our children helped us and early last Friday, the Ken Arthos, from Hereford, the Bernard Hartman's, the Marion Hicks, all from Umbarger and Gracie Raef, from Amarillo, (Don was working) and their children arrived to move us, and a smoother moving operation I've never seen. It was the first move that we have made, where all the boxes of dishes, etc., were all put away the same day they were moved, thanks to the children. We are enjoying the new house very much.

THE LAST OF the German visitors left Aug. 30, to return home. Gunter and Charlotte Damke, from Aachen, Germany, have been visiting in the home of the Max Hoffman's for the past 8 1/2 weeks. Mr. Damke is a cousin of Mr. Hoffman. They enjoyed their visit here very much. Last Sunday, the Hoffman's hosted an ice cream, cake and watermelon party in their home. Guests, besides the honored couple were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Heymer and children, Mr. and Mrs. Galen Heymer and son and Mr. and Mrs. Max P. Hoffman, from Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Klueskens and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Brown and Bill Stocker, from Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. LaDean Adams and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Adams and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Darroll Adams and family, all from Umbarger. A birthday party for Mrs. Hoffman was also held the same day.

MR. AND MRS. W. P. Janssen had as their guests last week Mrs. Guy Carpenter, from Clarksville, Iowa and her daughter, Mary Nell Carpenter, from Nevada, Iowa. Mrs. Carpenter, who is a niece of Mrs. Janssen, will be remembered as Miss Leah Tegeler, who taught school in Umbarger over forty years ago.

MISS DOROTHY WIECK, daughter of the Joe Wieck's, has returned to her home in Denver, Colo. after spending the past weekend here.

MRS. ANNA EVERS had as her guests last week her sister, Mrs. Lillian Parks and son, from Louisville, Tex. On Sunday evening, the guests were honored with a picnic in Thompson Park, in Amarillo. Attending the picnic were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Evers and family, from Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. Charley Evers and family and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Woodward, from Amarillo.

RECENT GUESTS IN the John Beckman home were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hayes and daughter, from Brooklyn, N.Y. Mrs. Hayes is an aunt of Mrs. Beckman. While they were here, the Beckman's took them to Colorado on a camping trip. Mr. Hayes is a native of Brooklyn, was very impressed with our "wide open spaces" and the beautiful mountains of Colorado. Enroute home, they stopped in Taos, N.M., for some sight seeing and they also stopped in Willard, N.M., to visit with Keith Milhoan and family. Keith is Carolyn's brother.

GEORGE AND MARY Brockman went to Midland last week to visit with George's brother. They stopped in Brownwood for a visit with Chuck and Erlene Majors, who used to live in Umbarger. In Van Alstyne, they visited a nephew of George's. They came by Muenster to visit with a sister of George's, then on to Montague to see the Henry Beckman's, former residents of Umbarger. They stopped in Winthorst, to visit with Father Cletus Post. They were gone for five days.

THE UMBARGER COMMUNITY Association decided in their regular meeting, held August 20, to have another garage sale. The date is Sept. 22, the place, the school gym. So, now is the time to clean out those garages and storage rooms, and then call Shirley Payne at 499-2825 and she will see that your items are picked up and stored till the day of the sale.

CHARLEY AND KATHERINE Beckman have returned from Leavenworth, Kan. They took Katherine's sister, Mrs. Mary Perry to the home of her daughter. She has spent most of the summer with the Beckman's. Since their return home, they have had as their guests, Captain Lawrence Coldren and family, from San Antonio. The captain is a nephew of Katherine's.

SEVERAL UMBARGER RESIDENTS have accepted positions with the Canyon School System, the Hereford School System and West Texas State University. Mrs. Vincent Raemakers will teach in Gene Howe Elementary School this year. Alice Koch is employed full time in the Junior High School cafeteria and Rose Liekhuis is employed full time in the Senior High cafeteria. Mrs. Jack Brandt is teaching in the reading and learning disabilities field at the Central Elementary and Stanton Junior High schools, in Hereford. Susan Lindemann will be a graduate assistant at West Texas State University this year. She will teach three sections of English and will also take some classes there.

DWIGHT BRANDT WILL leave Sunday to resume studies at Texas A&M. He will be a sophomore this year.

MRS. FRANCES GROTEGUT is recuperating at her home, after undergoing eye surgery at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo. Miss Marcella Birkenfeld, from Nazareth will spend some time with Frances.

DELBERT LIEKHUIS IS able to go to school, after knee surgery, in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo.

AN- NIVERSARY WISHES to Henry and Amalia Bracht, who celebrated their 32 wedding anniversary Sunday, Aug. 26.

News Brief

Floyd and Faye Plant recently returned from a tour they made of these states: Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, and Oklahoma. The main purpose of the trip was sightseeing.

The Plants traveled a total of 2,540 miles and spent $39.98 for gas. They only ran into one station that had a limit on the amount of gas allowable. Mr. Plant was pretty proud of the mileage his Chevy II made.

Intellectual Advantages Far Outweigh Disadvantages Of Quarter-System

(Ed. Note: In the last in a three-part series exploring the Canyon public school quarter system, Mrs. Ruth Holladay, director of secondary curriculum, points out various advantages and disadvantages of the new system).

The problems that educators were confronted with when attempting to implement the quarter system this fall seemed to be almost entirely mechanical ones, according to Mrs. Holladay.

The benefits of such a program, however, seem to be primarily intellectual. And the advantages of intellectual enrichment far outweighed the disadvantages of increased technical complexities, she added.

In order to augment a program which best suited the needs of Canyon students, the quarter system implementation has required a great deal more decision-making by principals, counselors, teachers and students, Mrs. Holladay said.

"While once we had to schedule two semesters for each child, now three quarters have to be scheduled, thus increasing by 50% the decisions which students and counselors must make in assuring that we get the students into the right place at the right period," Mrs. Holladay said.

The Canyon Schools are utilizing computer scheduling, but numerous exceptions and complications still arise after processing, and have to be worked out by students and counselors.

Some mechanical problems have been encountered in the switch from the semester to the quarter system, but in no case, said Mrs. Holladay have these complications cost students any of the credits they have already earned.

The transition also requires some individual decision-making. For instance, Mrs. Holladay said, if a student who failed one semester (18 weeks) of American history last year, the decision must be made about whether the student can make up his deficiency with one-quarter (12 weeks) or two-quarters (24 weeks) of American history this year. In informal conference, teacher, student and counselor must decide how serious the student's deficiency is, and assign him to a longer or shorter term accordingly.

The transition to the quarter system has also resulted in a larger expenditure on learning materials, according to Mrs. Holladay. With segmented classes concentrated into more specialized subject matter, new and different texts covering more specific areas were required in place of the usual standard texts, she said.

Because of the rearrangement of subject matter and the introduction of new courses, teachers are having to write new curriculum guides to replace the last ones compiled in 1967.

The quarter system also requires more departmental meetings in order to delineate subject matter and avoid overlapping, she said.

In some cases, the quarter system has resulted in an uneven distribution in the pupil/teacher ratio. Because of the nature of some of the more specialized classes, attempts have been made to keep their numbers down, resulting in an increase in other classes.

On the plus side, the segmentation of the academic year into three quarters, allows for more concentration of work within one 12-week period. The system also allows teachers to concentrate on the subject matter in which they are most effective.

"The quarter system has also given kids the idea (as we wanted it to) that we're trying to make the curriculum more relevant and interesting to them," Mrs. Holladay said.

It also allows for more freedom of choice for students in scheduling their classes, she added.

Another advantage for students is that with a 12-week grading period rather than an 18-week one, they are not tested on material covered over a long period of time.

With the quarter system, Mrs. Holladay said, there may be some possibility that Canyon High School will move toward allowing early graduation for senior students. Students have been required to spend eight semesters in high school, but with the introduction of quarters, there may be a possibility of shortening that requirement.

With the elimination of study halls, students will be getting more classroom credits in a shorter period, she added.

Another advantage for students is that with an increase in offerings, they are no longer "locked into a schedule of subjects for the entire year," she said. At the end of each quarter, students have the chance to change their schedules.

The quarter system has been an impetus, also, for much that is new and progressive in the schools, Mrs. Holladay said. Educators are hoping to offer more individualized instruction this year in which assignments are adapted to the students' needs and interests.

"One change in the English program — a change that some educators might argue with us about — is the doing away with tracking or grouping, in which students were placed in advanced, regular and basic English classes on the basis of their ability, past achievement, and recommendations from teachers," Mrs. Holladay said.

Now that a variety of courses ranging from science fiction to Shakespeare are offered, Canyon educators are hoping that, in their choices of classes, "students will level themselves by ability and interest."

Even if such leveling does not occur, said Mrs. Holladay, Canyon teachers believe that much positive interaction will result in heterogeneous classes comprised of advanced, regular and basic students.

The quarter system orientation is also more closely patterned after a college curriculum, thus giving valuable experience to the school's college-bound students.

Coincident with the introduction of the quarter system has been the hiring of additional effective and professional people as classroom teachers, she added.

With Sept., 1975 the deadline for all Texas schools to switch to the quarter system, Canyon High School is two years "ahead in the race," Mrs. Holladay said there was some possibility that other schools who have not yet made the transition may be watching the Canyon experiment quite closely this year.

"These are certainly exciting times for our local schools," Mrs. Holladay concluded.

Kids Inc. Football Program Register

Registration continues through this week for the Kids, Inc. Football Program, open to boys in fourth through sixth grades in the Canyon schools.

In an initial sign-up session last Friday, 65 youngsters registered to play football this year. As of Tuesday, 77 boys had joined the Kids, Inc. fall program.

In order to comply with Amarillo League requirements, the Canyon Kids, Inc. program has to adhere to a weight stipulation for students entering the program.

These require that a fourth grader must not weigh over 100 pounds; a fifth grader, not over 110 pounds, or a sixth grade student, not over 115 pounds.

"Since between the ages of six and 12, a child nearly doubles his weight, we know these requirements are rather rigid," said Dorothy Keith, Kids, Inc. secretary-treasurer.

She added that the Canyon organization does not determine rules for entry into the league, which is headquartered in Amarillo.

Boys entering the program are required to pay a $5 fee covering uniforms and League entry.

About $3000 worth of uniforms were purchased for the Canyon program last year. Uniforms were distributed to players Tuesday afternoon at Conner Park. Each uniform is purchased for about $30-35 by the Canyon organization, Mrs. Keith said.

She said about 30 more boys are expected to register by next week. About five football teams will be formed from the membership, she added.

The program still needs volunteers for coaching and assistant coaching positions, Mrs. Keith said.

"But most of all we need parents to back us up this year in our program. We'd like them to attend our games and give the boys their support."

A game schedule will be drawn up next week, Mrs. Keith said.

Any boy interested in joining Kids, Inc. may do so by contacting Max Brummett, program round-up man, or by going to Conner Park between 4-6 p.m. weekdays except Wednesday of next week.

Registration for boys wishing to play flag football rather than tackle is scheduled in two weeks, the time to be announced.

Canyon Library Open 30 Hrs. Week

The Canyon Library has recently become a member of the Texas Library System and, in order to meet criteria for membership, will be open 30 hours a week this fall.

City librarian Mary Huntington said that requirements for membership in the System stipulated that the member libraries be open a minimum of 30 hours per week.

Other requirements included that the library have at least 10,000 volumes or more.

Membership in the TLS entitles cardholders at the Canyon Library to check out books from Mary E. Bivins Memorial Library of Amarillo, which is the area resource center for the organization.

The Canyon Library will also have reciprocal arrangements with other member libraries in the area which entitle residents to check out books from their stacks.

Mrs. Huntington said that membership will also make state funds for the city library more accessible, as well as give the library greater choice in their book selections.

Beginning Sept. 4, the library will try out new hours for a trial period ending Dec. 31.

"If people use the library effectively during this period, then we will keep it open at those times," Mrs. Huntington said.

New hours are as follows:

Monday	1-5:30 p.m.
Tuesday	9 a.m. to noon
Wednesday	1-5:30 p.m.
Thursday	12:30-5:30 p.m.
Friday	12:30-5:30 p.m.
Saturday	9 a.m.-noon

Eastern Star Visits Canyon Chapter

By MARY NEAL HENRY
THE WESLEY-SIMS Memorial Roping has been scheduled for Oct. 6 and 7. The calf roping will be on Saturday afternoon and the steer roping on Sunday afternoon. There should be 40 of the top ropers present for the occasion.

EIGHT O.E.S. MEMBERS from Happy attended the Canyon Chapter of Eastern Star on Saturday evening. It was a very special night for some 70 members of Canyon who were honored for having been members for 25 years and over and for Dr. Lee Johnson, a retired teacher who was honored with his 50 year pin and certificate of service.

RUTH AND ALDEN Mann, Ruth Sims, Catherine Miller, Willie Butler, Gladys Haley, Pauline Wesley and myself attended. Other chapters represented were Amarillo, A.E. Shirley, Bonita (all of Amarillo), Hereford, Friona, Muleshoe, Plainview and Lockney.

CANYON SERVED A delicious dinner to begin their friendship evening. Then they first honored Dr. Lee Johnson, who was 50 year member. Dr. and Mrs. Johnson are now living in Waco at the retired teacher's home. (They had known Miss Purnell for the short time that she had been there.)

NAOMI BEWLEY ESCORTED each of the 25 year (and over) members to the East for their certificates presented by Anna Wright, the Worthy Matron, and Billy Mayfield, Worthy Patron. Cortez and Glen Howlen were among those honored. So were Judge and Mrs. Woody Pond.

WE WERE ENTERTAINED by the Cyco-Ceramics, translated, that means "Crackpots." I laughed until I cried. They were a trio (and could really sing beautifully) and one little guy didn't even have to open his mouth. He was funny just to look at. They sang their own versions of songs. I don't know if they want the publicity or not, but they were artists making people laugh.

BETTE LAIVE INTRODUCED the group. She first asked if anyone was present who had been to the wedding two years ago (another hilarious event). I was present, but I wasn't asking. I was afraid they were asking for volunteers and I had already been initiated into the sixth degree of that chapter. Some admitted that they were present. Even the gentleman who caught the bride's bouquet was there.

VISITING FRIENDS WAS another wonderful part of the evening. There must have been well over a hundred in attendance. Canyon Eastern Stars also served pie and coffee after the program. I enjoyed myself.

DEBI McDONALD WAS honored with a lingerie shower in her home on Saturday morning. Sheri and I served Swedish Tea Ring, melon balls from a melon basket, and juice and coffee and spiced tea to Joan McDonald, Donna McDonald, Becky Via, Debra Jackson, Barbara Dowd, Vickie Whitlow, Anita Schoenberger, Angelique Henry and the honoree, Debi. Brenda and Sandie Railsback also sent gifts.

PINK ROSES FROM my own rose garden were the centerpiece for the table. And oh, yes, we served M & M's, a private joke among the girls who attended WTSU last year. Debi received many nice gifts of lingerie and the girls enjoyed the dining.

BARBARA DOWD "BLEW" a water hose on her car on the way out. You know how the steam flies. She thought it was on fire. But all she needed was a new water hose. And she was almost here when it happened.

Meals On Wheels After One Year

After one year in operation, the Meals on Wheels program has taken shape.

Six to twelve people are now being served by the program. The number of people changes as some of the recipients are on the program on a temporary basis while they are overcoming injuries or illnesses and some have gone to rest homes.

The meals for the program are prepared under dietary orders from physicians in the Nebbett Memorial Hospital kitchens. Some of the diets provided are salt free, diabetic, and low cholesterol.

Between 12 and 1 p.m. the meals are delivered to the recipients. There are now 42 working volunteer drivers who usually take a turn at deliveries three times monthly. The program started out with 32 drivers.

The meals are delivered five days a week once a day.

To make sure everything goes smoothly, captains for each day have been appointed to stay at the hospital during pick-ups just in case a driver can't make it.

These captains are Mrs. Dorothy Smith, Mrs. Fanny Laas, Mrs. Eileen Kent, Mrs. Lois Hull, Mrs. Lynn Melber, Mrs. Susanne Oltjen.

Meals on Wheels is in no way connected with any state or national welfare program and is funded by donations. It is an incorporated non-profit organization with officers, a Board of Directors and three coordinators.

Those involved with the program feel that it has been a great success and they have gotten more out of it than they have given. They have a good feeling about doing something for the community and helping others.

Anyone who would be interested in working with or becoming a recipient of the program may call the Meals on Wheels Office at 655-9862 between the hours of 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Monday through Friday. Dr. Ruth Lowes is in charge of the office staff.

In the next two weeks, the annual meeting and election of officers will be held.

opened. Barbara has already moved into WTSU's Brown Hall for school. Most of Happy's '73 seniors are attending WTSU.

DONNA McDONALD LEFT Sunday for Loveland. Becky has a few more days before she has to be at Ranger.

STAN MORRISON HAS moved to Lubbock where he will be attending LCC this fall. Metta Moudy will be there also.

KEN HENRY ONLY had to go for pre-registration and counseling this week at Clarendon. He is mine until Labor Day, when he will move to the dorm.

SHERI HENRY WILL be attending Amarillo College this fall. Myrna Loy (Starker) and Jim Lamb attend Amarillo College. Myrna and I were visiting this summer at Let's shower.

JIM HENDON WAS home for the weekend. Jo and Fay and Connie and Andy went to visit Jim on Friday and watched a scrimmage, then returned to Perryton where Andy participated in the Tri-State High School Rodeo.

VALERIE TIPPES WON 5th in the Steer riding. Sheri Starkey won 2nd in pole bending and 6th in goat tying. Sheri was only one point shy of being All-Round Cowgirl at the Muleshoe Tri-State Show last weekend.

DEBRA MAGNESS ALSO participated in the Perryton and Tri-State Rodeos. Debra's picture was on a front page section of the Amarillo paper on Sunday... very good one, too. Debra is really putting a ride on a steer.

LEONA AND MERLE McFarland returned from market last week. Leona says that greens, berry red and black will be popular for the coming season.

THE HERBERT DONNELLS of Loveland spent the weekend with Betty and Lee Donnell and their Marta and Kevin. Herbert and Lee are brothers.

GUSSIE BARNETT MYSTERIOUSLY broke a bone in her right foot recently. By the time she decided that it might be and found out that it really was, it was knitted, so she is getting around better and able to wear a shoe this week.

GYWENN TUCKER HAD a rather large bandage on an index finger as she came through the barbecue line at the Happy Celebration. It seems that she and the boys were cutting large weeds in the field with machetes and one of the boys sliced her finger... even the bone. Gwynn was wearing her usual tranquil smile.

PEGGY AND TOM Johnson were in church service Sunday. They've been visiting Adrian and Wanda Bates over the weekend.

ROYCE AND BILL Vernon have traveled to Houston to see Bill and Susan. Bill will be leaving shortly for Michigan where he plans to work on his doctorate degree.

WICKY CULP LEFT Sunday morning for Texas A&M where he will study to become a veterinarian. Sandra and Don Maynard had a farewell get-together for him at their home last Saturday and then...

GARY AND BECKY Culp gave Wicky a farewell dinner party. Those attending were Ed and Karen Wright, David and Kaye Penn, Terry Wright, Don and Sandra Maynard, and Cheryl Dollar and Larry Culp.

WICKY ARRIVED CAMP in time to meet Becky Culp's plane on Monday afternoon. Becky is there this week attending workshops. Gary Culp ate supper with Myra Nell and Everett on Monday (those left at home). Myra Nell can tell this so cleverly. And she is still smiling. I can sympathize... but not all that distance though.

PAT AND BOB Hargrave and Myra Nell and Everett Culp celebrated Pat's and Bob's anniversary last Sunday by dining at the Country Barn.

JOY AND BOB Stevenson visited Joyce Lane earlier this week... all of it on the inside.

JOY AND BOB Stevenson, Joyce Lane, Cordell Mahler, Joyce Wheat, Pat and Bob Hargrave and their Trisha, Si and Willa Elliott, Mrs. R.B. Elliott, Ross and Romona Elliott, Stan and Linda Elliott and Willa Jane and Jim McManigal, all from "these parts" attended the wedding of Sheila Ruth Payne and John Paul Jones in Umbarger on Saturday afternoon.

NOVALENE AND JOHN Toles attended Sally Louder's wedding in Tucuman on Saturday. Si and Willa Elliott visited the Louder family on Friday because of the wedding of relatives scheduled for the same day. I'm sure others from here also attended that wedding. But who?

JANICE AND JESS Walton visited Evelyn and Raymond Shipman over the weekend.

EVELYN, BARBARA AND Beverly Dowd vacationed in Colorado last week... mostly in Colorado Springs and saw all the sights there. By the Buddies and one of his buddies from Rapid City, S.D. (service base) joined them for a short time.

GONE FISHIN'... or been... to Lake Isabel were Eugene Jackson, Jim Whitman, Lloyd Venhaus, Gene Shipman and Vincent Venhaus. The fishing wasn't too good last week.

BOB LEE RECEIVED his Bachelor of Science degree from WTSU during the summer convocation. Bob's major is plant science and he will be employed by Dekalb.

WILLIE BUTLER, OTHIELLA McGee, and Ellen Avenant attended the State Board Meeting of Texas CowBelles in Abilene last week. Plans were made for the State Convention. The State Convention will be at the Hilton Inn in Abilene on Oct. 17 and 18.

MRS. DORIS WILHELM will host the Happy CowBelles on Sept. 12.

THE C. J. Greenfields visited C.J.'s sister and family in Idaho during the summer. Camilla tells me that John Perry and Lou Nell Mitchell will be living near Sitka, Alaska, soon. Johnny is already there and Lou Nell is staying with Cameron until she can join him.

LEONA AND MERLE McFarland recently visited Leona's brother, Rex Westerfield of Oklahoma City. Rex is in the Baptist Hospital there.

NINA AND TOM Gutheine have recently purchased a new mobile home and moved to another suburb of Dallas (I forget which one... northwest of her new home and thinks that it should be easier to move the next time.

MRS. VIVIAN WESLEY purchased a home in Fort Worth during this summer and is very happy with it. She has moved her furniture to Fort Worth and is very much "at home" again.

PAT AND BOB Christenson of Lubbock are the parents of a baby boy, Kirk Russell, born Tuesday, Aug. 21, at 11 p.m. (That is pretty close to Wednesday). Kirk weighed 7 lbs. 5 1/2 ozs. Maternal grandparents are LeMoine and Ira Schrib of Way-side.

I RAN ACROSS a 1939 annual in mother's upstairs room in Amarillo this week. It contained a summary of Happy's first band. They had received the $100 1st prize at the Tri-State Fair Parade in Amarillo. A few years later, they led the largest band in America down Polk Street on the occasion of Franklin Delano Roosevelt's visit to Amarillo. These bands combined played "The Eyes of Texas" in b-flat. Of course, they were famous for the red, white, and blue Uncle Sam uniforms. Doug Forbus was their director and if I could remember all of them, I'd list the band. It wasn't near the size of today's Happy Cowband.

TO SAVE SOME of you out there a long distance call - LK Rodeo is in Prewitt, N. M. this week. And that is all that I know of.

SCHOOL IS in full swing. Bus drivers are running around lost... not really, but we had some good laughs last Monday. Maybe some of the kids were who was lost. I never get ready for school until the bell rings... usually the last of August. Then I just resign myself... here it is. I've always enjoyed the summer with my children and seems as if they get shorter every year. Thank you again, Happy, for not beginning until Aug. 27.

See ya!

Colony-Dwelling Artist Works In Painting, Portraiture And Design

The Colony Catherine studio of artist designer Delmas Howe seems like a study in contrasts between the sensibilities of an urbane New Yorker and of a man who relishes the solitude and natural beauty of the craggy canyon terrain of his cliffside home in the Texas Panhandle.

Within his studio, his portraits of both urbanites and plains-dwellers hang side-by-side. A chic New Yorker casts her worldly stare across the room at the wind-sculptured face of a Panhandle pioneer couple.

On another wall, one of the works from a past New York show in which Howe displayed his surrealistic "dream symbolism" surreals hangs upon a wall covered in one of a series of fabrics designed by the artist from his sketches of the Panhandle's sketched wild flowers.

Still on the drawing board, black-penned Panhandle wild flowers are just beginning to spread out from the corner of a clean white sheet of paper, beside which a Budweiser beer can is posed, waiting for the time when Howe leaves off his flower studies to fix upon its Anheuser-Busch emblem, which he is transposing onto a curtain design, commissioned by the owners of the company.

minent New York photographer shows Howe standing in a doorway, clad in the same denim and leather that he sports when hiking in the upper reaches of the Palo Duro Canyon, armed with sketch pad and pencil.

A native of Utah or Consequences, N.M., Howe spent 15 years studying and working in New York City, where his paintings have been featured in several showings.

He began painting while serving as a bassoonist in the Air Force Academy band in Colorado Springs, dividing his time between musical performances and attempts to capture the surrounding Rocky Mountain terrain on canvas.

First setting his eyes on a professional music career, Howe went to New York to study and work. It was there, also, that he was whirled up in the exhilarating whirl of the city's artistic galleries. The modern art galleries of New York fanned his interest in the works of the surrealists, especially that of Rene Magritte.

Attempting to probe even deeper into artistic experience, Howe tried his hand with surrealism. His most ambitious attempt was a series of paintings in which he drew his central themes as universal dream symbols as set forth in the research of post-Freudian psychologists.

At the one-man show of his dream paintings, Howe said he delighted in overhearing the commentary of New York art enthusiasts, each of whom seemed to see something different in the universal symbols that he had interpreted into art.

Howe first came to the Panhandle in 1962 to teach music at Amarillo College and perform in the Amarillo Symphony. During this time, he met Robert McKenzie, impresario of Colony Catherine, one of the region's principal artistic communities known nationally for its prize-winning, custom-made fabric designs.

Accepting an invitation to spend a summer working at Colony Catherine, Howe continued to make it his summer residence after he moved from Amarillo back to New York.

This summer marks the first time Howe won't be returning to the city, since he intends to reside at the colony full-time as one of its principal designers.

His colony lifestyle is defined by an easy pace. Within a given time span, he is obligated to complete a certain number of fabric designs. In between his designing work, his time is his own.

When I get tired of the designing, I turn to my paintings or the portraits. If I find of those, I go back to the design," he said. Portraiture is especially intriguing to the artist.

Before he begins a portrait, he says he tries to get to know his subject through informal visits. The interests and life styles of each become the raw elements from which Howe says he likes to draw in order to "build an atmosphere around them in their portrait."

One of the commissions of which he's particularly proud is that of a handsome ranching couple (each possessing what he called the "epitome" of Panhandle facial expression) whom he posed against a brilliant backdrop of Panhandle clouds and sky.

Another portrait now sitting on the easel brings out the almost translucent beauty of another model, whose love of Eastern culture prompted the artist to pose her in front of a dark-toned Oriental screen.

Howe says he asks his subjects to bring several of their favorite outfits for their initial selection. Then, he makes the final selection from the wardrobe.

Men's portraits can be much more detailed studies than those of women, who are often more sensitive about their self-image, he said. One of the most challenging aspects of portraiture is the delicate work of setting forth the character of the subject as seen through the artist's eyes, while at the same time pleasing the client.

Lacking the slick formula of a commercial portrait painter, Howe says there have been some portraits he's had to finally "give up" on because of an inability to "pick up the right vibrations" from the subject. Often, he says, the reason lies in the fact that the model is "showing me a mask or not being entirely open with me."

That part of the artist that goes into each Howe portrait is revealed in the detailed studies of hands.

"I've always liked to paint strong hands. I give them to all of my models. It's almost a trademark of my work," he said.

Hughes Receives Grad Assistantship From Arkansas U.

David T. Hughes of Canyon has been awarded a museum curatorial assistantship at the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville.

A 1969 graduate of Canyon High School, Hughes received his Bachelor of Science degree in geology from West Texas State University in May.

While a WTSU student, he served as a geology laboratory assistant for three years and was president of both the student geological and anthropological societies.

Hughes has done field work in Arizona with Dr. Vance Haynes of Southern Methodist University, and for the past three summers has been employed in the archeological division of the Texas Highway Department. He was also a member of an archeology of Dr. F. Earle Greene of Texas Tech University for one season.

He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Jack T. Hughes of Canyon. Dr. Hughes is a professor of anthropology at West Texas State University, and Mrs. Hughes is a history instructor at Amarillo College currently working toward a Ph.D. degree from Texas Tech University.

Hughes is currently enrolled for work toward a master's degree in anthropology at the University of Arkansas.

Summer Readers Acknowledged

Certificates of merit went to 30 Canyon youngsters recently for their active participation in the Texas Reading Club at the Canyon Library.

The summer readers received certificates for books completed 12 or more hours during the summer months.

According to city librarian Mary Huntington, some children read as many as 50 or 60 books, and over 1,000 volumes were consumed by all of the Canyon students participating in the program.

She said that any winning club members who have not picked up their certificates yet may do so by coming to the library during opening hours.

Those receiving commendation were Jeanie Ann Acker, Lynda Rhea Brotherton, Tammy Bonner, Janie Baird, Deanna Campbell, Sherrie Dennis, Tod Dennis, Michael Grillo, Kristina Grillo, Sally Jo Grillo, Brad Johnson, Jayne Lewis, Katie Lewis, Joann Nogger and Traci Oltjen.

Bufs Return Receiver And Kicker

(This is part of a series of stories on the 1973 West Texas State University football team — RECEIVERS AND KICKERS.)

For a team which returns a group of receivers who caught only 28 passes during the 1972 football season, West Texas State isn't in bad shape in that department.

While the receiving corps looks good, the kicking game is in the hands of solid, if not outstanding, veterans.

Entering the 1972 season, West Texas State's secondary lacked both experience and quickness, but still performed well enough for the Buffaloes to gain a share of the Missouri Valley Conference football championship.

All of those same players are returning for 1973, so the unit is now experienced. With the addition of junior college transfers Rick Mordecai and Dennis Little at the start of the spring semester, the Buffalo coaching staff hopes that the lack of quickness is no longer a problem.

Fleet Carl Brown heads the group of returning pass receivers at split end. The 6-2 Van Vleet senior caught 12 passes last fall, good for 267 yards and two touchdowns. He scored two more touchdowns on end-around runs.

Other veterans returning are tight end Merced Solis, tight end Tom Brownfield and Scott Doores, who played on both offense and defense last fall. Doores will work in the defensive secondary this year.

Joining the veterans are Mike Lozano and Jeff Loyd, up from last year's freshman team, and track ace Tracy Dickson.

In addition to the end positions, several of the backs are capable receivers. With the Buffaloes working from an I formation this fall, such backs as Mickey Matthews, Rick Schieder and Cole Fraley will be going out of the backfield sets into pass patterns.

In Brown the Buffaloes have one of the Missouri Valley Conference's more exciting players. He caught touchdown passes of 70, 80 and 85 (school record) as a sophomore and scored against Wichita State on a 98-yard kick-off return.

The lanky Brown has 20 career receptions at West Texas State for 660 yards, an average of 33 yards per catch.

Brown has passed up spring drills for the past two years to run track and he is Missouri Valley Conference record holder in the 120-yard high hurdles with a 1:3.9 clocking. He also holds both the 50-yard high hurdle and 50-yard intermediate hurdle record in the MVC indoor track championship.

AAUW Has Tea Tonight

The American Association of University Women, Canyon Branch, will hold a tea tonight from 7:30-9:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Frank Blackburn, 413 Taylor Lane.

"Women in Media" has been chosen for study at the general meetings. Two films are scheduled for the Oct. meeting and for the Nov. meeting there will be a panel of AAUW members, and guest speakers will include Mrs. James P. Cornette, Troy Martin, Judge Mary Lou Robinson, and Sandy Wright of Channel 7, KVHT-TV.

Two continuing study groups will be Drama, a play reading group that meets monthly at night, and Current Books, that has no formal meetings, but with each member of the group contributing one book which is passed in the circle.

The club hopes that all women who are interested and eligible will join them at the tea and also visit the first meeting. This will be an 8:30 breakfast in the Green Room of the WTSU Cafeteria on Oct. 6.

AAUW is a national organization with headquarters in Washington, D.C. Any woman with a Bachelor's degree from an accepted college or university is eligible for membership.

Officers for 1973 are President Audrey C. Rider, 1st Vice-president Donna Greer, 2nd Vice-president Ada Crager, Secretary Jo Ellen Moses, and Treasurer Jane Munsell.

While Brown was competing in track last spring, Lozano had an outstanding group of practices. The 5-6½, 152-pound former Amarillo Caprock High School star caught seven passes for 143 yards and two touchdowns as a freshman.

When not playing split end, the fleet Lozano worked at quarterback for the Buffalo Frosh.

Dickson, who has run two wind-aided 9.2 times in the 100-yard dash, decided to come out for football last fall, but was slowed by an old muscle injury. He underwent surgery to correct the injury and it was apparent in the spring that he hadn't slowed much as he recorded a 9.4 time in the 100.

The rugged Solis, a 6-1, 213-pounder from Mission, caught 11 passes for 161 yards last fall. Brownfield, who played varsity basketball at West Texas State before deciding to come out for football in the spring of 1972, had two catches for 30 yards.

Loyd, a 6-5½, 215-pounder, started at tight end for the Buffalo freshmen and caught two passes for 53 yards.

Senior Merle Kilpatrick returns to handle the punting duties and Arcadio Rivera is back to do the placement kicking.

Kilpatrick averaged 36.3 yards on 54 kicks last year, but had an excellent sophomore year — averaging 39.5 yards on 60 boots. A backup punter will probably come from the freshman ranks. Both Mike McVay of Beaver, Okla., and John Paul Lee of San Angelo Lakeview are capable kickers.

Rivera, a junior from Marfa, was true on 22 of 23 extra point attempts last fall, but converted on only one of seven field goal efforts. On kickoffs, he consistently puts the ball near the goal line.

Two other Buffaloes are capable kickers. Bruce Wyre was the freshman kicker last fall and defensive end Juan Garza holds the Kimbrough Stadium record for the longest field goal — 52 yards two years ago during his freshman year.

Daryl Carr, 169-pounder from Orange, is the secondary punter, having started 21 straight games over a two-year period. The six-footer has intercepted five passes from his safety position.

Robert Edwards, who started most of the time at corner back last fall, has been moved to the safety post opposite Carr. The former Sundown all-state quarterback intercepted three passes and was the team's leading return man last fall.

Edwards returned a punt 77 yards for a touchdown against Lamar University in a 35-12 victory. He also had an 18.9-yard average on kickoff returns. He averaged 11.4 yards per return on punts.

Mordecai, from Santa Rosa, Calif., and Little, from Richmond, Calif., have good quickness and earned starting berths most of the spring training period.

Scott Hindman, Borger junior, started most of the games in 1972 at corner back and had a good spring. He is only a step slower than Mordecai and Little and his experience could earn him considerable playing time.

Johnny McDowell, who also drew several starting assignments at corner back last fall, has been moved to safety.

Seniors Steve Sydow and Scott Doores saw a great deal of playing time at safety last fall and they will bid with Carr, Edwards and McDowell for playing time in 1973. Like Carr, Sydow is a two-year letterman. Doores came out for football on his own in 1972 and made the team. He lettered three years for the Buffalo basketball team.

Mordecai, who runs the 40-yard dash in 4.6, and Little, who turns the 40 in 4.5, had impressive spring drills. Secondary coach Bobby Thompson was also impressed with the play of Amarillo sophomore Aaron Gilbreath.

Arcadio Rivera, the team's placement kicker, and punter Merle Kilpatrick are also secondary players. They both play safety. Red-shirt transfer Bobby Nowak of Amarillo and sophomore Bryan Dunson of Electra are other secondary players who could log some playing time.

Thompson feels Carr should lead the secondary and says, "He's a proven player who is steady and a hitter."

The Buffalo secondary coach said Edwards is a good open field tackler and his move from corner back to safety should improve his play.

McDowell, Carr and Edwards paced the team last fall in interceptions with three each.

200 Teachers Attend Meet

About 200 school teachers were present Tuesday night for the opening fall meeting of the Canyon Classroom Teacher's Association, held at the junior high school.

Featured speaker for the event was Mrs. Edna Stephenson, president of the Texas Classroom Teacher's Association.

Also present was Mildred Hickox, member of the Board of Directors for the Association.

Both performances and the dance are free.

Critics say that persons who come to listen, to be entertained by Williams, usually find they are doing more than that — they are responding to the words and music both emotionally and intellectually.

"I don't know why," the red haired composer-singer says. "My songs deal with life as it is instead of somebody's dream of how it should be."

Born in Birmingham, Ala., Williams grew up in Central Texas, attended the University of North Carolina and served two years in the Army. He says these experiences contributed much to his theories about the society in which he works and lives.

The Trend was formed four years ago.

Their instrumentation consists of a lead guitar, bass guitar, piano, organ, drums, trombone, saxophone and trumpet.

Although everyone in the group sings, the vocal emphasis is put on the girl, B.J. Coulson, the drummer, Jim Coulson, and the lead guitarist, Paul Rodriguez.

The group's initial exposure to television was early last year on a special in which they co-starred with Nancy Wilson, Arte Johnson, John Denver and Bobby Darin.

Upon conclusion of the special, the group launched a three-month tour of the United States. They performed everywhere from colleges and nightclubs to Disneyland and Los Angeles Dodgers Stadium.

The Trend concert ensemble consisting of seven men and a girl, share the bill with vocalist Mike Williams in back-to-school concerts scheduled Friday and Saturday at West Texas State University.

Conservative Spokesman Reid Buckley Scheduled To Speak Sept. 13 At WTSU

A cultural and social critic, author, film script writer and platform personality comes to West Texas State University Sept. 13 when Reid Buckley opens the fall semester Special Programs Series.

Focusing on the topic, "Can Conservatives Be Progressive?" Buckley's program is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Activities Center Ballroom on the Canyon campus.

A spokesman for the conservative point of view, Buckley says of himself: "I'm a Christian, libertarian conservative. This day and age, how radical can you get?"

A son of oil explorer William F. Buckley, Jr., he is a younger brother of U.S. Sen. James Buckley of New York State and William F. Buckley, Jr., editor-in-chief of the National Review.

Strongly opinionated and possessing a lively imagination, Reid Buckley takes a searching look at contemporary society and prognosticating on its future.

Author of "The Eye of the Hurricane," a novel about what he calls the ecological depreda-tion Americans have committed on nature and their own spiritual heritage, Reid Buckley has contributed to Vogue, Diplomat, The Atlantic Monthly, Life and other magazines.

He has been assistant to the editor of Freeman magazine, a contributing editor of the National Review (under the pen name of Peter Crumpet) and the

Canyon Sue Hite Club Plans '73 Activities

The Sue Hite Club led by President Mrs. Virginia Allen, will begin meetings again next month. The club's theme is "strengthening Americanization through knowledge," and it is a member of the Top of Texas District of Federated Womens Clubs.

Other officers for the coming year are Mrs. W.A. Miller, vice-president; Mrs. Evelyn Lumry, treasurer; Mrs. Edith Priddy, recording secretary; Mrs. Hazel Walsh, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Patsy Sommer, corresponding secretary.

One of the club's projects is the Canyon Library. They make a donation to the library every year.

The Canyon Opportunity Plan is another project they support through the Council of Federated Clubs. In December, a game night will be held with proceeds going to the Canyon Opportunity Plan.

The Sue Hite Club also supports the Museum Auxiliary to which several of the members belong.

A special project the club hopes to be able to work with a great deal is a stand they will take on pornography. They hope to help support the State and National Federated Clubs in the fight on pornography.

Though it seems a little unusual, the club will start this year to prepare for the Golden Anniversary celebration they will have in 1975. The Canyon Sue Hite Club was founded and federated in 1925.

Some of the study groups for the coming year are home life, conservation, education, fine arts, international affairs, public affairs, and Texas heritage.

There will be two programs presented by the home life study group entitled "Who Are We As Americans?"

Another project that the club hopes to have success with is a project to support the state Federated Clubs in their endeavors to save the Big Thicket. It is their wish to have the Big Thicket declared a national park.

Rock Artists In Open-Air Concert Highlight Registration Activities

Vocalist Mike Williams and a rock group, The Trend, will perform in open air concerts at West Texas State University Friday and Saturday.

The concerts are sponsored by the Student Activities Council to provide entertainment for the Canyon campus students during registration week.

Williams, who describes himself as "a purveyor of ideas," will appear at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the patio area between the two high-rise dormitories on the east side of the campus. He will also perform Saturday night from 7 to 8 p.m.

The Trend, a seven-man, one-girl concert rock group will perform from 9 on at an ice cream fete-street dance beginning at 6 p.m. on the west side of the East Dining Hall. Buffalo Drive will be blocked off for the dance.
